Season 1950
List No. 14

"He who would bring home the wealth of the Indies must carry the wealth of the Indies with him."

— SOURCE UNKNOWN

So it is with growing orchids. We must possess the best in order to produce the best. Our stud plants are parents of the highest calibre, parents whose listings of awards from the ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY would require as much or more space than the actual listing of the varieties.

In using these parents every cross is carefully planned beforehand, since a mistake here would mean years of effort and much valuable space wasted. In working out these crosses we look well into the future, since we realize that they shall have to meet considerably higher standards when their blooming period arrives than those applying today.

It is with pride that we note that where ever we have exhibited our plants they have won top honors. The true worth of a plant is not what the owner thinks of it, but how it rates with impartial judges. As this catalog goes to press our records show that 14 of our plants have received certificate awards from the Southern California Orchid Society or medals from the Cymbidium Society for this season.

We extend a cordial invitation to all orchid enthusiasts to visit our nursery and judge at first hand the quality and vigor of our stock. Here you may see all phases of the orchid's growth. You will see seed pods ripening, young seedlings beginning to pick up vigor and older plants growing the substantial bulbs that presage future fine flowers. A glance through our stud house will convince you that many of these plants are the sires of the blue ribbon winners of tomorrow.

For those who also grow Cattleyas and their allied hybrids, we wish to state that our collection of these is as large and as fine as our Cymbidiums. We have a catalog devoted entirely to this genera which we will be happy to send you on application.

CYMBIDIUM PAUWELSII

Var. Compte de Hemptine, F.C.C., R.H.S. (Lowianum x insigne)

One of the most famous Cymbidium parents. This plant imparts splendid vigor to its progeny as well as fine flower quality, and a free-flowering habit on a graceful spike. Flowers are golden bronze.

CYMBIDIUM SEEDLINGS

from Exhibition Type Plants

PERFECTION IS NO CHILD OF CHANCE.

Growing orchid seedlings is likewise no haphazard matter, especially since these plants shall have to compete in a market where standards are rising year after year. One has only to compare a plant which received an award ten years ago with one of the recent winners to realize that this statement needs no further confirmation. One must possess the best to produce the best.

Selection of the proper parents is, of course, the basis of any good cross. All the work which follows, the care given the seedlings, the years of waiting for these plants to reach maturity and flower are wasted if one makes a mistake here. It is, therefore, necessary to have an extensive and carefully selected group of stud plants before crosses of real merit can be attempted.

We are proud of our long list of stud plants, acquired after much thought and selection. These are parents of the highest calibre, capable of producing seedlings which will meet the requirements of the most discriminating collectors. We are adding to this stud list whenever we find plants which suit our purpose and meet our high standards of quality.

Even the most carefully planned cross may be spoiled by poor culture. Eminent growers from all parts of the country have commented most favorably on the vigor of our entire stock, especially our seedlings. These receive the careful attention necessary to the promotion of strong, steady growth and will, we feel, reward their purchasers by flowering ahead of the accepted schedule.

In summing up may we repeat that through selection of the proper parents, plus careful growing, we are able to offer seedlings of which you may be proud.

All seedlings are offered subject to the stock on hand. We suggest that you indicate a second choice in the event all plants of a particular cross may be sold.

It is generally known that cymbidium seedlings may vary widely in color, in fact seedlings from a single pod may take in quite a wide section of the spectrum. We are listing the general color expectancy as a guide for those who may not be familiar with the parents used. This is only a generalization and the color variance may be considerably wider than indicated.

Seedlings with leaves from 4-6 inches long are priced at $3.00; those with leaves 6-8 inches long, $5.00; 8-10 inches long at $8.00, and those with leaves from 10-15 inches long at $12.00. California purchasers will please add 3% sales tax.
